TODAY'S AMUSEMENTS

for the last time. The dramatic critic of the New York Evening Mail says:

"It is a temptation to say that this is the greatest offering of screen drama since "The Birth of a Nation."

But that is not a fair comparison, because the two plays are so entirely different.

"The Birth of a Nation' is intense and Trilby' is intense, but in another way. One relies largely on a remarkable array of the spectacular, the other on a powerful, closely knit theme, splendidly acted.

"Clara Kimball Young has known able array of the spectacular; the other on a powerful, closely knit theme, splendidly acted.

'Clara Kimball Young has known success in films before, but never success like this. As Trilby, as difficult a part as she has ever attempted, she was called upon to portray emotions and shades of emotions that, when transmitted to the screen, are unbelievably vivid.

'Generous credit is due Manrice Tournier, who superintended the direction of Trilby. The success of the picture is largely due to the masterful way it is put together. One part will serve as an example. When Svengall, having Trilby completely under his hypnotic power, took her from place to place, as he developed her rocal talent, her mind was dared and confused. This confusion was cleverly shown in a series of short, uncertain scenes of varied length. It ereated nuch the same feeling in the mind of the beholder as was supposed to have taken place in Trilby's mind.'—Advertisement.

AN EXCELLENT BILL AT BIJOE. A program of single reels has been arranged for the Rijon patrons today, including Margnerite Courtot, the Kalem star, in a splendid one-act drama, showing some of the latest women's zowns, and Florence Turner in a series of highly amosing imitations of various film celebrities in a ratiling good comest.

The Little Gypsy, which is the screen version of "The Little Ministen." will be shown at the Wiswam to day for the last time. This is one of the prettiest and most fascinating pictures that have been shown here for a long time. It is also filled with thrills and big scenes. Dorothy Bernard, the former El Paso actress plays the role of Lady Babbi. Pon't miss "The Little Gypsy."

Tomorrow Paul Gilmore will be seen in Kalein's Broadway Favorites, production, "A Model's Adventure."—Adv. EAST TO MAKE AND COSTS LITTLE Catarrh is such an insidious disease and has become so prevalent during the past few years that its freatment should be understood by all.
